Stacy Jones Band continues to blow fans away with their high-energy, genre bending performances. Amazing vocals, incredible musicianship, outstanding songwriting and powerful, dynamic arrangements – it's easy to understand why Stacy and her band are captivating the crowds and gathering new fans worldwide.

Their new album simply titled "LIVE And Untapped" captured May 2011 at the Untapped Blues and Brews festival, brings the listener right up to the front row at a Stacy Jones Band show. The dynamic eleven song set features songs from all the group's albums along with classic covers like "I'd Rather Go Blind," (Etta James), "You Upset Me Baby," (B.B. King) and "Miss You," (Rolling Stones).

Showcasing the strengths and depth of the whole group, the set was recorded by Jazz Stream mobile and mixed at Studio Litho in Seattle by Floyd Reitsma (Pearl Jam-Dave Mathews) and mastered by Ed Brooks at RFI. The band is thrilled to have these great pros on their team.
